Pure Consciousness – The Theory

Pure Consciousness employs the Science of Information to render a business leader's mind open to its own inherent inner wisdom and intuition, that is more clearly connected with the outside world, thus creating a free and harmonious energy, which when perfectly balanced, ignites the creative performance potential.

Self has two connotations: lower self and higher self. The lower self is that aspect of the personality that deals only with the relative aspect of existence. It comprises the mind that thinks, the intellect that decides, and the ego that experiences. This lower self functions only in the relative states of existence—waking, dreaming, and deep sleep. . . The higher self is that aspect of the personality which never changes, absolute Being or Pure Consciousness.

Pure Consciousness or Science of Information is the original unconditioned state of all things; it manifests itself when transcending from the physical plane into the astral plane where only Time and Space persist and where Energy is in Absolute Zero.

Science of Pure Consciousness

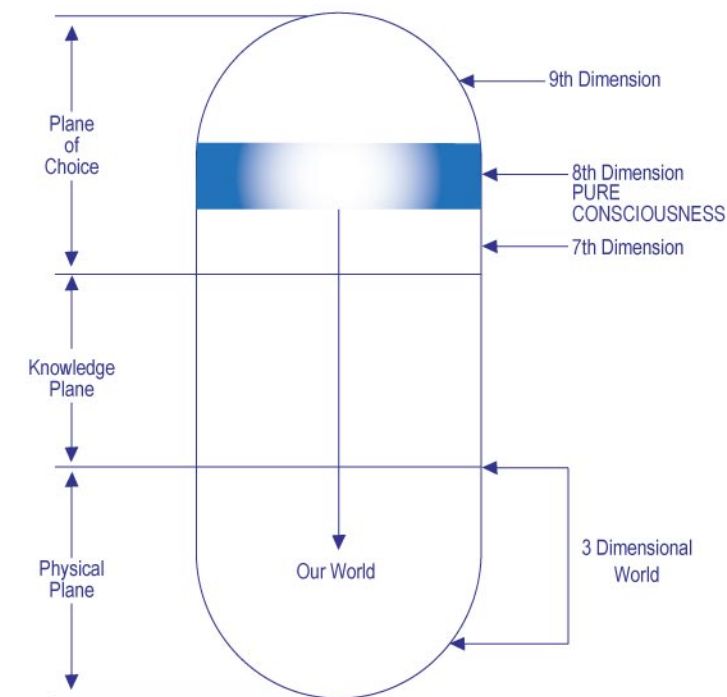

Law of Creation

The scriptures dictate and science is closing in on the fact that the world, as we know it, has evolved from nothingness, and will return to nothingness.

Every being in this world has his/her source in a Divine Light. When the divine light falls on the pure consciousness it forms a shadow. The shadow formed is referred to as the higher delusional energy. This energy in combination with 19 astral elements materializes into forms that have a harmonious balance of information and energy at the physical level.

The Pure Consciousness plane holds all the information of the universe and is comparable to an incorruptible super server storing the complete data about all creation. Accessing this super server can actually and effectively alter the individual's Pure Consciousness Plane, to successfully achieve the desired effect/result in the physical plane.

LAW OF PURE CONSCIOUSNESS

The Plane of Choice

Also known as the Pure Consciousness Plane, where the seed of your business plans or grand vision is planted.

The Knowledge Plane

Also known as the subconscious mind where your idea/ targets/ visions are conceived and crystallized in order to seed them in the Plane of Choice.

The Physical Plane

Also known as the conscious mind or the physical world as we know it, here is where the information of the Plane of Choice and the Knowledge Plane will come to fruition or translate into tangible results.

Pure Consciousness – Application in Business Management

How is Pure Consciousness linked to the real world?

In an ideal business scenario, targets/ visions/ ideas/ thoughts are conceived by the head of an organization in the Knowledge Plane, and then planted in the Pure Consciousness Plane or Plane of Choice, from where the ideas or business information is processed/ monitored to ultimately materialize in the Physical Plane.

This ideal scenario is where all company goals and visions are achieved in a clockwork manner devoid of any/ all challenges or impediments. Though in today's business, ideal scenarios are rare and businesses have to face up to many operational as well as strategic challenges and constraints in their routine.

Pure Consciousness Solutions effectively eliminates any/ all such impediments in the path of sustained growth for an organization.

The Consciousness Programming Technique

A leader's vision is fundamentally information which combines with business intellect to create the energy for the ultimate material execution. When there is the correct balance between this information and energy, material execution occurs at the right time and in the right space. However, when there is an imbalance between the information and energy, then material execution does not occur at the right time and in the right space, leading to what are called business uncertainties.

This is where the Consciousness Programming Technique is employed to help organizations achieve the desirable balance of information and energy. The Consciousness Programming Technique is the process by which an organization's Conditioned Consciousness is correctly re-programmed and aligned with the Pure Consciousness Plane to guarantee that targets set by the company leaders will be successfully realized in an agreed-upon time frame.

About the Founder-Director

Sri Presh, Founder-Director of Pure Consciousness Solutions and identifier of the Consciousness Programming Technique, was, very early on in life, enlightened in the intricacies of the science and phenomenon of Pure Consciousness and its impact on the functioning of all creation and all beings in it.

He has, since, directed his knowledge and acquired skill in this dimension toward enabling individuals and organizations to realize their full potential by drawing them away from the dependencies of the physical world and connecting them to their own plane of Pure Consciousness.

This 'connect' helps to increase the organization's clarity of vision by eliminating all distortion levels, thus setting them on the path of their own defined destiny of success.

As Founder-Director of Pure Consciousness Solutions, Sri Presh works on a person-to-person equation with the head/top management of an organization in a continuum of time, to help them build and apply their 'pure consciousness' plane to successful business practices. This technique has been successfully applied by Pure Consciousness Solutions at several client locations, achieving measurable results in agreed-upon time frames.

Technique

Fundamentals and Flow

Step-1

The Founder-Director engages in person only with the head/top leadership of the organization to gain an analytical insight into the company's pre-set business goals and objectives.

Step-2

The Pure Consciousness Solutions' Consciousness Programming Technique is then implemented to identify and access the organization's own unique identity in this creation and then align the organization's needs with the Pure Consciousness domain or Plane of Choice.

Step-3

A set of detailed instructions is provided to the designated organization/ company leaders to enable them to apply the suggested methodology diligently. The progress is regularly and personally monitored/ assessed by Sri Presh in an astral perspective.

Step-4

At this phase, the 'connect' with the Pure Consciousness domain is complete and the desired pre-defined business results will begin to materialize for the organization as per pre-determined time frames. The business runs in perfect harmony with desired goals being successfully and continually achieved.
